BALLAGH - PAINTER

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Marie Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James William Painter, to James Reveley Ballagh, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ballagh, took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the New Concord Presbyterian Church. The Reverend George Aichel performed the double ring ceremony against a background of native greens and lighted candelabra centered with an arrangement of white flowers.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Jean Blankenship, organist, and Mr. John Burnett, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin fashioned with a scalloped neckline, lace bodice and front. A tiered back of pleated tulle and lace extended into a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace embroidered with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Yvonne Ferguson, wore a street-length dress of gold velveteen with a scalloped neckline and pleated skirt. She wore a matching head piece and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

The bride's other attendants were Misses Shirley Nash and Pauline Perrow, cousins of the bride. They wore dresses similar to that of the honor attendant only in red and green. They carried identical bouguests. Little Freda Ruth Jones, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, and Mac Elder, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

The best man was Douglas Ballagh, brother of the groom, and ushers were Richard Nash, Jerry Nash, David Foster, and Wilson Wheeler.

Immediately after the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the social hall of the church.

For a northern honeymoon, the bride chose a tan walking suit with brown accessories, adding the orchid from her Bible at the shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballagh will make their home at 921 Court Street, Lynchburg.
